THE FRANKLIN INSTITUTE &
ATWATER KENT MUSEUM

1 8 2 6

When the Franklin Institute
moved to the Parkway,

A. Atwater Kent saved the building and founded the Atwater Kent Museum.

Transit shelters for Market Street East in Philadelphia were used to enliven the streetscape and display Market Street's rich and diverse history. The information is layered for motorists and pedestrians. Designed by Cloud and Gehshan Associates Inc, for the City of Philadelphia, USA

Die Wartehäuschen auf der Market Street East in Philadelphia beleben das Straßenbild und zeigen gleichzeitig Autofahrern und Fußgängern die reiche und mannigfaltige Geschichte der Market Street. Das Design stammt von Cloud and Gehshan Associates Inc. Auftraggeber war die Stadt Philadelphia, USA
